Enrollment, Programs Cited at SIU-SW in '67

A record enrollment and continued development of the academic and area services programs and campus facilities highlighted 1967 on the Southern Illinois University.

During the year, dedication ceremonies were held for a $4,183,000 science building and for the $4,800,000 University center. In addition, construction began on a $3,500,000 general offices building and contracts totaling $1,101,038 were awarded for completion of the second floor of the University center.

At year-end, the university was anticipating approval by the Illinois Building Authority of a $1,019,270 contract for an office wing to be added to the Science building. Despite the building program classroom space continued to be at a premium during peak periods in a 15-hour academic "day."

Building Dedications
The building dedications were part of a year-long series of events marking completion of the first phase of development of the new campus on 2000 acres of rolling land in the bluffs.

One of very few campuses designed as a unit, SIU-SW continued to attract national and international attention. Presidents and top administrators from 16 new community junior colleges from Seattle to Florida were here in August for a first-hand look. Six college presidents from Ecuador visited the campus in November for the same purpose. In its October issue, Fortune magazine termed the University center an "exceptional example of architectural quality."

Enrollment climbed to 8,523, a gain of 865. The Carbondale campus enrolled 19,260 to make the university's grand total 27,788. Significant increases were noted in graduate school enrollment here.

International Recognition
International recognition focused on the campus in April when SIU-SW and the National Science Foundation co-sponsored a world conference on mathematics. For the fourth consecutive year the campus received a National Science Foundation grant for a summer institute in mathematics for secondary teachers. An additional NSF grant supported an in-service institute for mathematics teachers.

Several significant grants were received during 1967. A $12,500 federal grant supports a New Experimental Teacher Education Program designed to improve the quality of teaching by exploring new ways of helping teachers and students majoring in education.

The Office of Education gave the university a $60,432 grant for special equipment to improve undergraduate instruction.

A $45,578 federal grant supported an institute to reduce non-narcotic drug abuse, and $24,489 was granted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to continue a professional nurse traineeship program at the East St. Louis center.

Dollar volume of research on the Carbondale campus climbed to $2.5 million in 1967, and involved 198 projects.

New Programs
A new program began by SIU-SW included a Labor Institute, which attracted union leaders from two states at a leadership seminar. The institute, co-sponsored by SIU-SW and St. Louis metropolitan area unions, will continue into 1968.

SIU-SW also cooperated with the Department of Housing and Urban Development to stage a series of lectures to inform public officials of agencies and programs of the federal government.

In November the university announced it would offer courses in pre-school child care leading to associate in arts degree at its East St. Louis center beginning in January.

As part of its mission to increase cultural opportunities in the area, the campus held its first annual Fine Arts Festival. Twenty-six art shows, films, dramas and musical events were held in a seven-week period.

Symphony Orchestra
The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra spent a week in residence at the campus and also conducted a five-state competition as part of a symposium of contemporary orchestral music.

At year's end an application was pending with the Federal Communications Commission for permission to operate an FM education radio station. A favorable decision could mean beginning of broadcasting by late 1968.

During the summer the campus sponsored two international field seminars in Europe, designed to combine professional study in foreign countries with travel and cultural experiences.

Three new deans were appointed to head academic divisions during the year. Dr. Earl S. Beard, a St. Louis native, was named head of the social sciences division, and Dr. Laurence R. McNaney, long-time SIU science professor, was appointed dean of the science and technology division. Dr. Harriet Reeves was appointed dean of nursing.

New dimensions were added to the campus with the approval in November of plans to build apartment units for married students on the campus, and with the start of an intercollegiate athletic program. Apartment construction is expected to begin in the spring of 1968. Intercollegiate athletic competition began in soccer and basketball, with golf and baseball anticipated in the spring of 1968.

Forestry Research Grant from U. S. to SIU

Southern Illinois University has been granted $2,019 federal funds under the McIntire-Stennis Cooperative Forestry Research Program for conducting forest research this year, according to John Andressen, chairman of the SIU Department of Forestry at Carbondale.

The program was initiated in 1962 with the agreement that beneficiary institutions would match the federal grants with similar funds. For the current year $3,800,000 has been appropriated to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which allocates the funds to the states.

Several forestry research projects in the fields of forest recreation, forest economics, wood technology, forest wildlife, dendrology and silviculture are either under way at SIU or will be initiated during the year.

Southern received $28,000 last year and $18,500 the previous year for research from the federal program Andressen said.

County Ends Year with Balance of $673,768

Madison county closed its fiscal year with a $673,768 balance in the general fund, or $238,038 more than the previous year, according to John Kraynak, county auditor.

He said it will help offset an out-of-balance budget during the current fiscal year. The income was $1,949,646 and our expenditures totaled $1,711,068," he said. Major sources of income came from protest tax interests from investments, $224,522; county offices excess fees, $201,065; sales taxes, $200,727; state's attorney fees, $91,247; nursing home, $128,794; liquor licenses, $35,325; building and zoning fees, $23,968; and property taxes, $697,729.

He credited economizing by the county of supervisors, county officers and department heads and the county's investment program.

The county treasurers from 1964 through 1967 have invested $14 million in protested tax interests. A total of $2,167,061 of operating funds at 2.75% interest earned interest of $74,496 on 90-day notes, and another $15,900 earned interest on various building and loan firms in the county at 4 1/2% interest.

Miss Alice Louise Jackson Is Bride of K. J. Weinand

Miss Alice Louise Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Jackson, 2886 Iowa street, and Kenneth J. Weinand, son of Mrs. Walter Weinand sr., Troy, Mo., and the late Mr. Weinand, were united in marriage Saturday evening at St. Peter United Church of Christ.

Rev. Robert Baumann assisted by Rev. Ted Minkin, of Troy, Mo., pastor of Troy Methodist Church, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with Christmas arrangements of white poinsettias and pedestal vases filled with huckleberry. Lighted candelabra were trimmed with seasonal holly.

Robert Dial, organist, provided the wedding music for John Stephens of Ferguson, Mo., who sang "The Greatest of These is Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Jackson escorted his daughter down the white-carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage.

She chose a gown of off-white Peau de soie, designed with a square neckline outlined with Alencon lace motifs and seed pearls, long sleeves in a fitted bodice, and the skirt forming an A-line gently flowing into a Cathedral train at the back.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held in place with a rosebud and lily of the valley headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds centered with three cymbidium orchids.

GC Council Meeting Scheduled Tonight

Postponed a day for the Christmas holiday, the Granite City council session is scheduled for 8 o'clock this evening.

Reports are anticipated on the status of the city's air pollution control ordinance, which last week was ruled non-existent for lack of publication, and on the award of the construction contract for sanitary sewers in scattered areas of the city.

The city received telephone confirmation late last week from the Housing and Urban Development agency in Chicago for award of the contract to General Contracting Co. on its low bid of $192,904, but Mayor Partney said Friday that written approval of the firm will be awaited.

Mayor Partney announced Friday that H. W. Lochner engineering firm had completed detailed plans for the bond issue storm water drainage project, and the plans immediately were forwarded to HUD's Chicago office for approval.

"We expect to hear from HUD in about three weeks and then should be able to call for construction bids," the mayor said. Easements now are in the process of being obtained for both the sanitary sewer and the drainage projects.

Champaign Central was the champion in 1941, '48 and '49 and runner-up in 1937, '38 and '43. East St. Louis was runner-up in 1941.

Granite City was the state champion in 1965 and runner-up in 1967.

Smith was eliminated earlier in the tournament.

The two teams favored to win this year's meet are Waukegan and Sterling. Both are going into the meet with undefeated season records.

Waukegan is considered the number one team in Illinois, but Sterling also is highly regarded, having 14 returning wrestlers.

Admission to the meet will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and students. The admission is charged for each session.

Warriors Lose to EHS Tigers 82-43

The Granite City high school Fighting Warriors basketball team skidded into the cellar of the Southwestern Conference by losing to the Edwardsville Tigers 82-43 Friday night at the Tiger gymnasium.

The quarter scores were 22-12, 38-19, 53-26, with the Warriors always in the losing column.

The loss handed to the Warriors showed the biggest point spread for either team this year.

The Warriors' press attempt to stop the Tigers had little bearing. The Warriors' defenses were broken up time after time by the elite Tiger five.

Skip Hastings, a Warrior coach, said, "It was clearly a case of us not being able to hit on our shots. They held us to the outside, and we were unable to break up their well-oiled zone play."

"We had a bad night off the boards also. They beat us in every respect there. We were simply cold and couldn't warm up."

5 in Double Figures
Five Tigers were in double figures, with only one Warrior making the same mark. Gary Simpson tallied 13 points. Other Warriors' points were made by Gary Ridenour, six; Mike White, six; Tim Moore, six; Roger Belash, five; Dave Melzer, two; John Van Thuskirt, two; Jeff Jones, two; and Mike Harris, one.

In the first half of play the tough Tiger defense kept the Warriors to only five field goals. The Tigers took command of the rebound boards with the Warriors looking on without much challenge.

The Tigers hit the basket for 20% while the Warriors struggled to get 27% of their shots in the basket.

The Warriors are now 1-3 in conference action, with no conference pairing until Jan. 12, when they play against Wood River.

Today, the Warriors are en route to Pontiac to participate in the annual holiday tournament that starts tomorrow. The Warriors are slated to play against Waukegan, last year's tournament champion, at 10:30 a.m.

FLOODED KERR ISLAND HOUSE, where ten children and three women were found living last week minus food and adequate clothing. The Negro family pays $55 monthly rent for the four-room water-soaked shack. One of the youngsters can be seen peering from the window to the left.

Temporary Foster Homes For 10 Venice Children

Unsuccessful efforts by Madison County EOC officials to locate housing for a Kerr Island family whose four-room living quarters were flooded in last week's heavy rainfall, resulted in ten children being placed in temporary foster homes in the East St. Louis area and three women forced to remain in the dilapidated structure.

Victor Darnell, Madison County EOC deputy director, told the Press-Record Friday, "despite all attempts to relocate the 13-member family together, no suitable housing could be found in the vicinity of West Madison or Venice."

"The children were placed in temporary homes by James Reidelberger, county juvenile officer, and, as far as known, the 17, 18 and 35-year-old women were forced to return to the Kerr Island house."

Darnell said no vacancies existed in public housing units operated by the Madison County Housing Authority.

"Invariably, when a house in North Venice, West Madison, Eagle Park or Kerr Island can no longer be occupied, a similar situation ensues, with the family forced to live with relatives or move to an apartment or motel," the EOC official commented.

Darnell pointed out that federal funds to construct an additional 200-unit housing facility, proposed recently by the city of Venice and the Madison County Housing Authority, were denied as city and county zoning and building codes do not conform to federal requirements.

The anti-poverty official explained the living conditions of the Kerr Island family were uncovered when the mother of the 17-month-old infant failed to keep an appointment at the "Well Baby" clinic, operated at the Madison EOC Service Center.

Life Insurance is mostly LOVE

Sure, there are things like dividends, annuities, guaranteed pensions... but after all, life insurance is mostly love. It's a way of saying, "I care." It's a way of saying, "I want to take care of the future without questioning if college doors will open. Life insurance is the serenity that comes with the knowledge that a "foreclosed" sign will not be decorating the front door. Life insurance is the comfort of a companion of the graceful years. For families who are richer because they care, life insurance is a lot of things. But mostly love.

Alton State Hospital Wants Old Bicycles

The Youth Center of Alton State Hospital, which is an intensive treatment program for emotionally ill children up to age 18, are involved in repairing used bicycles, which will be used by the children to ride on the hospital campus.

Activity Therapist, Ray Murray, of the Youth Center, along with seven teenage boys from Bethalto, guide and supervise the repair work at the hospital on Wednesday evenings.

Dr. Emilio Valcarlos, youth center coordinator, said, "The project is a non-profit one, and it deals with the children repairing bicycles we receive through donations, and we hope to build a fleet of bicycles which could be used by the children in the program or other patients."

Murray said anyone wanting to contribute an old bicycle to the project may do so at any time, however two Saturday afternoons, Jan. 13 and 20, have been designated as dates when personnel will be on duty at the main entrance of the hospital to direct people who have bicycles to donate to the project.

Funds to support the project have been received from several individuals, as well as from one special group, known as "Friends of the Youth Center."

A group of women made and sold Christmas decorations and were able to donate $80 to the Bicycle Repair Club to buy necessary parts.

Among them was Mrs. May Markham, Rural Route 2, here.

Services Held Friday For Mrs. Evelyn Nelson

Funeral services were held Friday in East St. Louis for Mrs. Evelyn L. Nelson, 41, of 2812 Edgewood, who died at Bellevue Memorial Hospital at 12:05 p.m. Wednesday. She had been ill one year and hospitalized nine days.

A local resident for only three months, Mrs. Nelson and her family formerly lived for many years in East St. Louis. She was a native of St. Louis. Among the survivors are her husband, Louis Nelson; two daughters, Barbara and Julie; and two sons, Michael and Bruce, all at home.

Injured in Fight

Eugene Brown, 23, of 66 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday for cuts to his face, neck, chest and left leg, according to a report by Madison police who charged Brown with fighting. Officers said they arrested Brown in Garrett's tavern, 801 Jackson street, when he became involved in a fight with a woman who hit him with a beer bottle. Brown was released on a notice to appear for hearing Jan. 3.

No School Meeting

Although it has not been formally canceled, a Granite City school board meeting Wednesday night will not take place. Essential business was completed at the Dec. 11 session, and the next meeting is set for January 8.

Too Many Concessions to Russia?

(U.S. Department of State)

Many years ago my friend and neighbor, our nation's leading historian, Dr. Charles A. Beard, held the view that Russians are afraid of getting involved in a war with us.

Dr. John Anderson of the University of Minnesota, at the time of President Eisenhower's pressure against England, France and Israel, told me that we had committed a very serious error.

They should have been supported in the Suez matter. He was convinced that our hasty action would degrade our allies and enable Russia to control the mid-East. This has come to pass.

Any concessions now in the mid-East or Vietnam will be seen as a defeat of the U.S. "aggressor" by the "victim" Soviet Union, the more reliable protector.

We are now in a period that will by our action determine whether we (as had Great Britain) decline in prestige and honor to a secondary position.

M.D.A.

Dear Mr. A.:

You may be assured that we will continue to meet our commitment in South Vietnam.

As Secretary Rusk said in his speech in Chicago on July 6: "We shall stay in Vietnam until the right of the South Vietnamese people to work out their own future, under a government of their own free choice, has been secured."

"More is at stake than self-determination for the South Vietnamese, important as that is."

"Even more is at stake than the security of other nations in Southeast Asia, important as that is."

"The greater question is whether aggression is to be allowed to succeed, thus opening the way for further aggression."

"And tied to that is the integrity of the commitments in the Pacific that are just as binding as our commitments in the Atlantic."

"If those who wish to pursue world revolution by force should come to believe that the United States will not stand up to them, they will be disappointed."

"We don't have to look to the varied dangers to point out the fact that nature inclines the unfit or those unwilling to change."

Drivers commit more blunders in the winter than at any other time of the year, because they fail to adjust to changing conditions. The penalty for such mistakes, at best, can be delays and property damage, at worst is injury or death.

Blunders of wintertime can be divided into four categories: seeing blunders, starting blunders, going blunders and stopping blunders. In each case, the blunders can be subdivided into another four categories.

Seeing blunders include:

1. Cleaning a peephole just big enough to see through on a snow or icy window.
2. Smearing home remedies such as lemon, onion, glycerin or beeswax on the windshield to prevent icing or fogging.

Starting blunders include:

1. Driving with wipers that clean dead blades and poor tension.
2. Driving with parking lights instead of headlights (in Illinois this is against the law.)

Starting blunders include:

1. Letting air out of tires to increase traction.
2. Putting extra weight in the trunk.
3. Starting in first or low gear.
4. Trying to power your way out.

Going blunders include:

1. Following too closely.
2. Sudden steering moves and speed changes.
3. Forgetting about ice and frost on bridges and in shady spots.
4. Failing to adjust speed to conditions.

Among the stopping blunders, four stand out:

1. Jamming on your brakes.
2. Forgetting about "warm" ice.
3. Too much speed at "polished" intersections.
4. Failure to use snow tires, studded tires and chains.

When we advise drivers of these mistakes, we are hoping that winter can be changed from a blunderland to wonderland.

Winter here, So are Road Hazards

(Governor's Official Traffic Safety Coordinating Council)

The one sin nature punishes most is resistance to change. This can be seen in the increased accident toll resulting from drivers who failed to adjust to the changing winter pattern of fickle winter.

Blunders of wintertime can be divided into four categories: seeing blunders, starting blunders, going blunders and stopping blunders. In each case, the blunders can be subdivided into another four categories.

Seeing blunders include:

1. Cleaning a peephole just big enough to see through on a snow or icy window.
2. Smearing home remedies such as lemon, onion, glycerin or beeswax on the windshield to prevent icing or fogging.

States will not do what it has promised, the prospects of peace would rapidly vanish.

In regard to the Middle East, we can impose no blueprint for peace in that area.

The primary responsibility rests upon those who live there and upon their governments.

President Johnson set forth the principles which we think any settlement must encompass in his speech of June 19.

U.S. Aid to India

It seems that India is making a fool of the U. S. The Indian papers hold us in the deepest scorn.

The grain we have sent has just about fed India's 100 million unproductive cows.

In that what the U. S. has been reduced to—the growing of grain to feed India's pets?

Dear Mr. S.:

As a result of deep religious and cultural beliefs held by the Indian populace, beliefs which are extremely slow to change, there are some aged and unproductive cattle at large in the countryside.

However, the Indian cow, by giving milk, dung for fuel, power and, eventually, meat (for instance, Moslems and Christians) and hides plays a much more important economic role than generally is realized.

Our grain shipments to India have been a major factor in preventing famine among large numbers of people in that drought-stricken land.

A majority of Indian editors realize and report the humanitarian nature of our food aid and the fact that we are supplying this aid at a time of dwindling Indian State grain supplies.

Moreover, the indications are that most Indians are generally aware and appreciative of the food assistance which the United States has made available under our Food for Freedom program.

and funds for any purpose contrary to what will benefit taxpayers and citizens. Illinois is moving rapidly toward fuller achievement of that ideal.

Replacement of Federal Property Stamp Will Benefit State, County Governments

With the Federal Stamp Act expiring Jan. 1, a helpful state-county tax will replace it. Instead of 55-cent stamps for each $500 value in property sales, there will be a 50-cent real estate transfer tax.

As pointed out here early in 1967, the Illinois Department of Revenue has determined county tax multipliers principally through sale price comparisons made possible by the property transfer records. Unless the General Assembly responded, which it did in its 1967 session, the state would have had to spend large sums hiring a staff to provide the needed data.

Under the new legislation, part of the revenue will go to the state and part to counties; the proceeds may amount to $25,000 to $50,000 for the Madison county government during 1968.

Improvements which will go into effect include limitation of property stamp sales to recording of deeds offices, instead of also including post offices and other locations; immediate completion of declaration forms for Revenue Department records; and concentration of stamp purchases within the county where the property is located.

Not only will added expenses be avoided, but it may be possible to reduce the size of present revenue field crews. The new law is the soundest enacted in Springfield this year.

Sewer Bond Purchase By Bank A Big Assist to the Municipal Government

The First Granite City National Bank performed a public service by offering to purchase a $150,000 municipal revenue bond issue, enabling the scheduled construction of sanitary sewers to begin.

Plagued by the tight money market, rising interest rates and repercussions from the devaluation of the English pound, financiers were not interested in bidding for the bonds and there was fear that the 6% limit might prevent the project from proceeding.

However, indicating confidence in this community and a desire to solve the problem, the bank is purchasing the sewer bonds at 5 1/4%, taking the city government and public out of an awkward situation.

With no valid reason left to delay the work, the city council should award the construction contract immediately on the basis of the Nov. 16 low bid of $1,990,000, which was $27,000 to $61,000 below advance estimates.

Growing Use of Color in Press-Record

Color has become an integral part of newspaper publishing, and December has been one of the more colorful months in Press-Record history. The existing Dec. 21 issue, with its reds, greens, blues and yellows along with an infinite variety of shadings undeniably added impact to any visual presentation. The Press-Record takes pride in having been one of the pioneers in this field, and looks forward to an even more colorful 1968.

This newspaper is one of only a few hundred newspapers of any size in the U.S. able to print four colors and black in a single press run.

At this hearing, the party seeking the variance must provide evidence that it is necessary and show that it will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood.

Although the state's first zoning statute was enacted only 44 years ago, it has been amended many times and many counties in Illinois now have zoning ordinances.

Classification By Use

An ordinance classifies property according to the use to which it may be put, such as residential, agricultural, commercial, and so forth.

The type of building, their heights and the amount of space they may occupy also may be restricted.

State law permits a municipality to extend its zoning power over contiguous territories and many counties in Illinois now have zoning ordinances.

Next-Nuclear Control of Insects

American Institute of Physics

More than 30 countries sent specialists to Vienna to discuss the use of nuclear methods of controlling insects, which cause immense losses of food, carry disease and often bring death. Mosquitoes, caterpillars, fruit flies, wasps, mites, ticks and tsetse flies are among the pests which were considered.

The symposium was organized by the joint division operated by the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) to apply atomic energy for the benefit of food and agriculture.

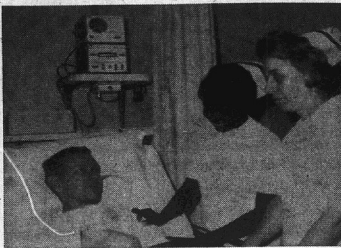

Information was exchanged on the ways in which nuclear methods can be linked with other scientific means of controlling insects.

Summer Jobs to be Plentiful in 1968

Latest information on 50,000 summer jobs throughout the United States and Canada has just been received by the Madison public library.

The new 1968 "Summer Employment Directory" lists specific openings, salaries, dates of employment, names and addresses of employers and helps on making application. Employers invite applications from high school seniors, college students and teachers.

Outlook for 1968 summer jobs is cheerful. There are 12% more jobs than last summer. Salaries are $50 to $200 higher for the season.

Camp counselors and resort workers continue to be greatest in demand. Students for camps of special children and adults are increasingly needed. For the more unusual jobs, counselors are wanted for fly-fishing, origami, judo, karate, fencing and puppetry.

College students are the most sought-after summer workers, followed closely by teachers. High school seniors are a definite third.

Information on summer job openings is obtained from extensive research conducted among thousands of potential summer employers throughout the country. Included are camps, resorts, resort hotels, national parks, ranches, restaurants and summer theaters.

GC Mixed Chorus Presents Program For Optimists

Granite City Optimists extended a standing ovation to the 8-member advanced mixed chorus of Granite City high school, following a special 20-minute concert presented Thursday afternoon in the YMCA.

Under the direction of Warren G. Simpkins, vocal music director, the students performed a selection of old Christmas carols, arranged in a brand-new setting by Harry Simons of the Fred Waring organization. The choral arrangement recently was recorded by the Harry Simons Choir and released on an MGM label, the director explained.

An unusual piano accompaniment for four hands was contributed by pianists, Bob Ashcraft, a senior, and Janet Young, a junior student. Vocal soloists included Beverly Dorch, Jim Fitzpatrick, Jerry Doyle, Alice Ralls and Bertie Baker.

Carl Roach, program chairman, introduced Simpkins and appreciative comments on the performance were made by Gene H. Sternberg.

Twenty-six Optimists and three visitors attended. Guests included Skip McMillan, William Henley and Everett Brady, Jr. Raymond Troyer, president, conducted a short business meeting, with Arthur Roseman, chairman of the 1967 Optimist Christmas tree sales, reporting excellent pickup support for the project. He pointed out this season, the club had acquired an increased number of trees for resale.

At this week's meeting, E. E. Veihl Jr., a club member, will present a travelogue, illustrated with colored slides, of his recent European trip.

GC Clean Air Law Published

Granite City's Air Pollution control ordinance, adopted in April 1965 and amended last July and November, is being published as a legal notice to the public.

City Clerk Homer "Cal" Pendleton said he ordered the publication on advice of attorneys. At last week's council session, he was asked to enforce the ordinance and make any necessary revisions to the original and amendments.

Mayor Partney told the Press-Record that he believes the city clerk overstepped his authority and that he would not sign the check for payment of the publication.

He acted on the advice of attorney, Pendleton told the Press-Record.

The ordinance came under fire in September when it was discovered the July amendments made it more stringent than state standards, and further revisions were completed last month so it would conform with the state clean air code.
